Granville Men Decide to Incorporate $40,000 Company To Buy Supplies and Sell Products.

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, March 16.—The farmers of Granville township and vicinity met Tuesday afternoon to discuss ways and means of forming a co-operative company for handling their products and buying supplies for the farmer. Mr. Wheaton presided at the meeting while Norman Buxton of Johnstown, who is much interested in the movement, gave the farmers some valuable facts and figures on a business basis. After discussion and balloting it was decided to incorporate for $40,000. A committee was selected to secure the necessary papers and do other preliminary work. The meeting was adjourned until Saturday evening at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Marie Sinsbaugh left yesterday for Edgewood, Maryland, for a month of much needed rest.

Miss Clark was hostess last evening to a children's party of the Fortnightly club. Boys and girls of all ages were there, even the baby and grandmother were allowed to come. The children took possession of the spacious home, playing games in the playroom and at a suitable hour for young people marched in single file through the dining room and kitchen for their buns and plates of food. After supper the children were weighed to see who was the perfect child.

Mrs. Anna Everhart of Elkhart has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hopkins for a few days.

FINISH SURVEY OF FAIR GROUNDS

Drawing Is Completed By Landscape Architects In Columbus and Blue Prints Will Be Available Soon.

Several members of the Chamber of Commerce spent yesterday afternoon in the interest of several projects being furthered by the local organization.

Messrs. O. J. Barnes, W. C. Hall, H. F. Moninger, Clifford Frye, Fred Wilson and E. M. Kauffman attended the Columbus Chamber of Commerce. Discussion of relief for Ohio cities was had and plans were made to submit it to the state legislature.

Governor Davis has appointed a commission and they submitted their report yesterday. Two bills have been introduced known as House bills 33 and 34. Bill 33 deals with the provision to temporarily lift the Smith limitation and Bill 34 would limit the city in borrowing money and issuing bonds. Twenty cities were represented at the meeting.

While in Columbus Mr. Hall and Mr. Lewis visited Elwood and Frye, landscape architects making the survey of the Licking county fair grounds. They located the topography survey had been completed, and that the drawing was being transferred to cloth.

A visit was made by Mr. Barnes to the Ohio state department of health in reference to the bringing to Licking county of the child health clinic. Governor Davis has written the national child health council at Washington urging that Ohio be selected and Licking county has already presented 32 petitions from various organizations asking that Licking county be given the clinic. The executive secretary of the council will visit Newark the latter part of this month.

Thursday: Burke Golf vs. Monette; Heisey vs. Heath.

The Printers set the pace in last night's opener in the Industrial league winning an easy game fifth a score of 20 to 3. The Midland boys were unable to locate the ring more than twice during the contest though they had many open shots for the baskets. While the score for the type-men seemed big it was none too good for the many trials they had to make points. Altogether it was a loosely played game with little expression of team work.

The second contest between the American Bottle and the Y Seniors was the most exciting game in the league history. The scene was no place for a person with a weak heart. Fortunately every one present had good health and survived the thrills of the last half of the game.

The loss of Goodwin, DeFrance and Thorp forced the Y Seniors to send the O. S. to some of the young eligibles. Wilson and Quinn responded to the call and did some fine work for the squad.

The first half ended 12 to 10 in favor of the norther end players. It was a good struggle but neither team seemed to get its stride.

In the second period the Y team stepped out and for a while it appeared that the game was sewed up. Then there came a lull in the basket shooting for the Y men and the bottle tossers located the basket with ease. The half ended tie and after a brief rest a five minute overtime was started.

The score sawed from one side to the other. In the last minute of play the bottle team was 2 points ahead when the Y team dropped one in from the foul line for a single point and quickly a field goal by Quinn who sneaked in close to the basket giving the triangle team a one point lead. The excitement was extreme and the players were rampaging around. As the timer with gun in hand pled to fire the closing shot Flick Huffman scooped the ball and in a flash lifted the sphere. The ball was in the air when the gun was fired. The throw scored a clean basket and the game was over in favor of the A. B. C. team. Final score 30 to 29.

ECONOMY MATCHED WITH QUALITY IN WILLYS-KNIGHT CAR

The new Willys-Knight embodies not only an improved Knight motor but a chassis and body of distinctive character, increased comfort and convenience. Lighter than other models of the car by several hundred pounds and perfectly balanced to road and load requirements, it is establishing records of economy new to cars of such high quality and luxury of comfort.

Owners are reporting mileage of 20 to 26 miles to the gallon of fuel and, in tests that have been run, even more settable averages have been recorded.

Striking evidence of this fact was established a few weeks ago in the Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run, the annual event of the year on the coast. The Willys-Knight entered with second place in Class Two, its record in gas, water, and oil being beaten by only one other car, that winning car being an Overland Sedan.

In this Economy Run, 35-mile test which included 100 miles of gallon in travel, the Willys-Knight established a mileage of 21.7 per gallon of gasoline used.

In a recent official test in Oklahoma City, a new Willys-Knight touring car delivered 37.2 miles on one gallon of gasoline. The test was made through city traffic. The car carried three passengers and the driver.

The Willys-Knight car impresses one as a triumph of engineering. No part is too heavy, no part too weak. A perfect balance in chassis has been achieved. The touring car weighs only 2900 pounds. It was built to compete with cars very much higher in price.

In body lines, there has been no departure from last year. Road lines are of pentagonal design; throughout the rest of the body, the impressively beautiful straight line design is followed. Lamps, radiator, hood and the low hung body form units in this harmony. The crowd of fenders and in keeping with the low, racy appearance of the car.

In interior refinements, the European tilt of the deep cushioned seats is a decided feature. Soft, long grain leather has been used throughout. The doors are extra wide and the tailored top adds distinction. Crustal leg room is provided at front and rear. Fenders, hood and the entire chassis have been coated in durable baked hard enamel, absolutely protecting the metal. Exceptionally long flexible semi-elliptic springs are used, the rear springs being underlugs, giving the low hung body effect. The Overland Garage, 62 West Main street, will be pleased to demonstrate the new car at your convenience. 3-16-31

No matter how perfect you make pancakes and waffles—what you like best is the syrup

DID you ever stop to think that what you taste most, and what you like best on your pancakes or hot biscuits or waffles—is the syrup?

In millions of households every morning Karo starts the day off for everybody. It gives just that finishing touch to the crisp brown cakes or the hot biscuits that make the meal a delight.

Karo is equally delicious for cooking, baking, candy making, or preserving. Many cooks use it to stew dried-fruit or prunes; or for candied sweet potatoes, brown breads, muffins, coffee cake or puddings.

Do you know why Dextrose is very important food?

You cannot live very long without Dextrose, the great energy food. Most of the food you eat—such as bread, starchy vegetables and all forms of sugar—has to be changed into Dextrose before your system can use it as energy food.

BLUE Karo

The standard table syrup. Also for cooking, baking and candy making. Light brown color, delicious flavor—a heavy-bodied syrup.

RED Karo

The ideal Syrup for every use—for cooking, baking, candy making and preserving. Because of its honey-like appearance many prefer it as a spread for cakes, biscuits, breads.

GREEN Karo

Flavored with highest grade real maple sugar. Very moderate in price—absolutely pure. The makers of Karo are the world's largest users of the highest grade maple sugar—over a thousand tons used annually.

FREE A booklet every parent should read. Tells all about the wonderful food value of Karo; explains the meaning of Dextrose and why children thrive on it. Sent free with the beautifully illustrated Corn Products Cook Book of sixty-four pages. Write Corn Products Refining Company, Argo, Illinois.

MOLINE

The Universal Farm Power Plant

Runs Level

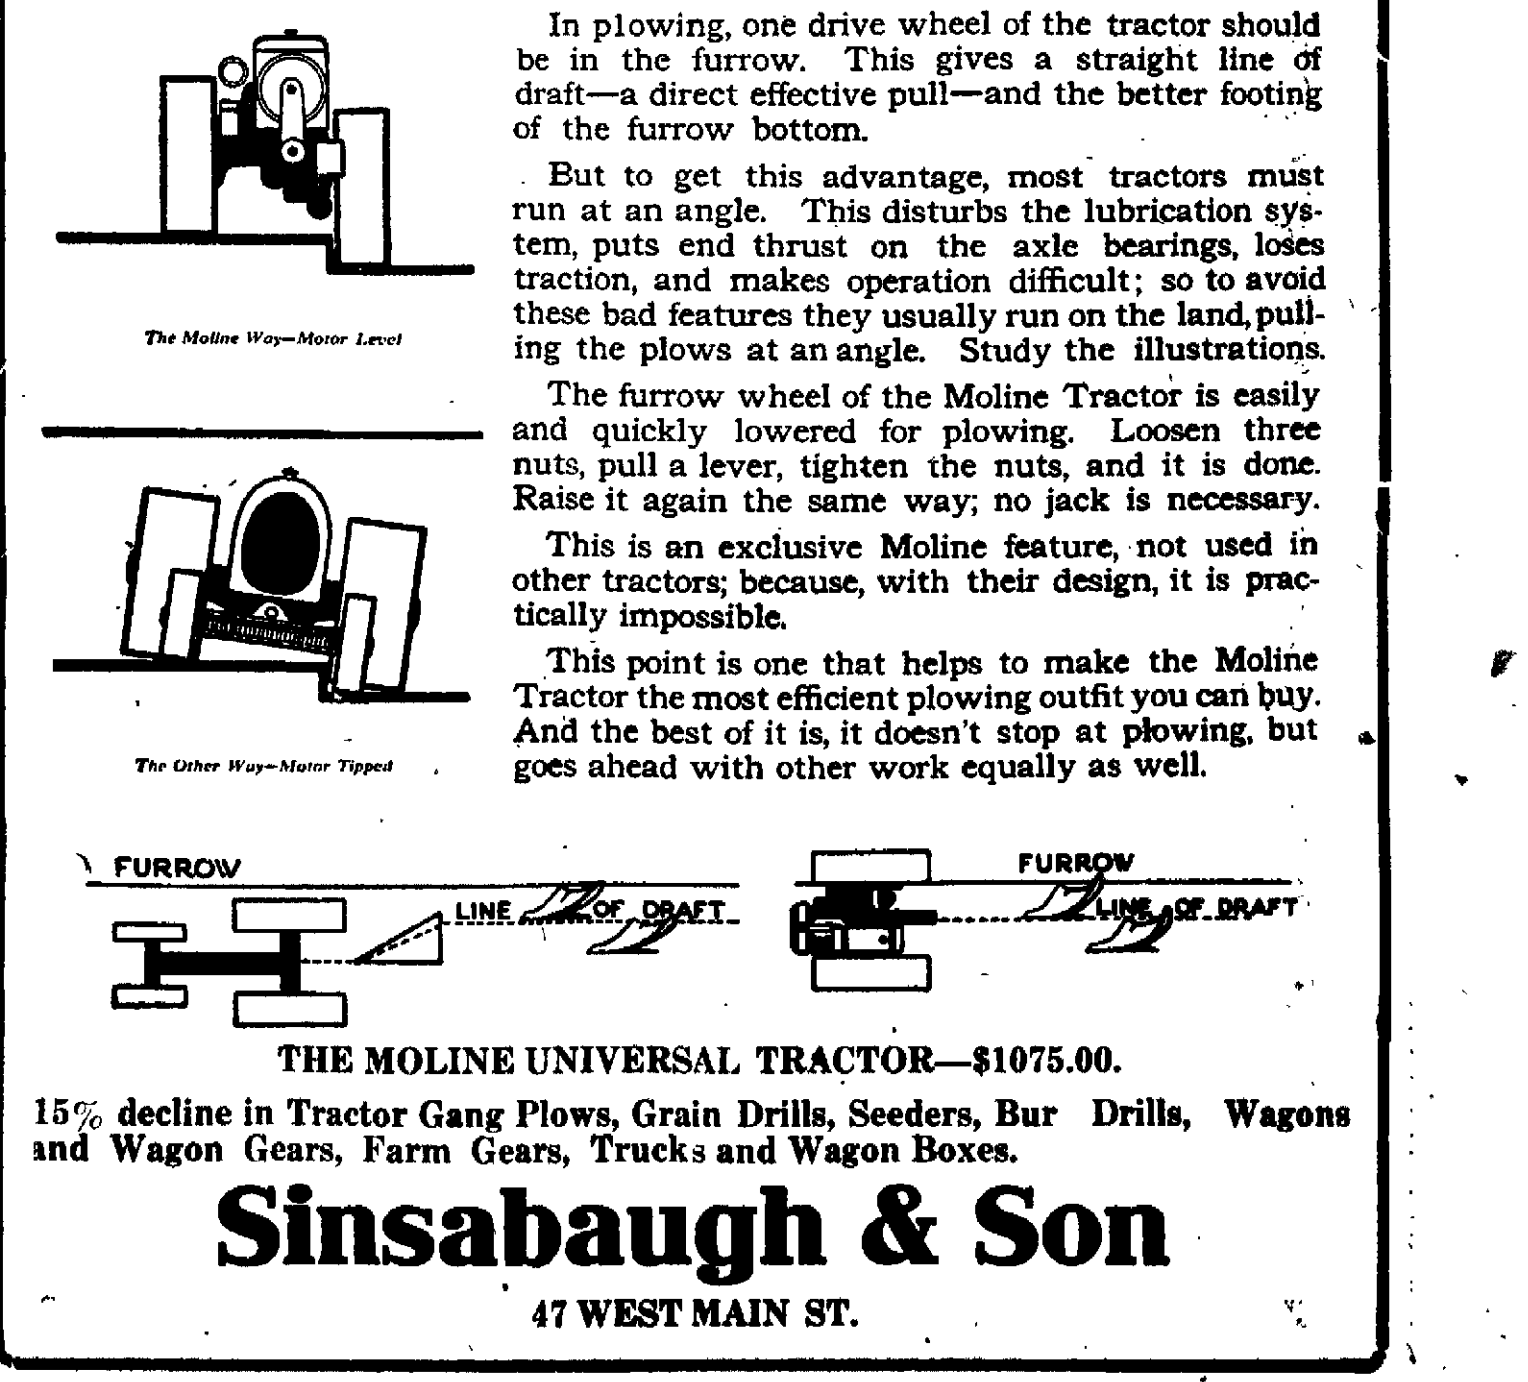

In plowing, one drive wheel of the tractor should be in the furrow. This gives a straight line of draft—a direct effective pull—and the better footing of the furrow bottom.

But to get this advantage, most tractors must run at an angle. This disturbs the lubrication system, puts end thrust on the axle bearings, loses traction, and makes operation difficult; so to avoid these bad features they usually run on the land, pulling the plows at an angle. Study the illustrations.

The furrow wheel of the Moline Tractor is easily and quickly lowered for plowing. Loosen three nuts, pull a lever, tighten the nuts, and it is done. Raise it again the same way; no jack is necessary.

This is an exclusive Moline feature, not used in other tractors; because, with their design, it is practically impossible.

This point is one that helps to make the Moline Tractor the most efficient plowing outfit you can buy. And the best of it is, it doesn't stop at plowing, but goes ahead with other work equally as well.

operation and in which Miss Doris Keane America's most famous emotional actress, plays the role of the operatic singer, the same as she has on the stage in New York, Chicago, Boston and London, during the past six years. The right for this play passed into Miss Keane's hands from Winthrop Ames and Lee Shubert. At the time the play was bought by Miss Keane the money paid was without doubt the largest amount in actual cash for the rights of any American play, or for that matter, for any foreign one either.

For this consideration, Mr. Dillingham did not, but any manner of means own the play outright. He merely acquired the managerial rights to produce the drama and Mr. Sheldon was still paid a 10 per cent royalty on the gross the play produced each week. Many managers contended that in view of this wonderful success Messrs Alhambra and Shubert should have made very much money by keeping the play for the play in their own hands, but the cold cash was an extremely tempting offer and Mr. Shubert, in accepting, kept one ear or wisdom to the ground, for he insisted on having a clause put in the contract that "Romance" should be played in Shubert theaters exclusively throughout the country. At Alhambra starting Thursday.

RUSSELL THRILLS ALL IN "THE IRON RIDER"
 "The Iron Rider," a William Fox picture with the mighty William Russell in the star role Monday at the Alhambra theater thrilled a hostful of enthusiastic patrons. The story of this picture surpasses even the advance accounts of its intense interest in putting the case mildly. The picture fairly bristles with dramatic situations. Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man," the recent Pearl White feature "The White Moll," and other successful photoplays, wrote the story, which was adapted to the screen by Jules G. Furthman. Scott Dunlap was the director.

"The Iron Rider" is a thrilling tale of relentless justice in a lawless town. With Russell in the role of an Iron Rider—a clan founded by his father thirty years before to subdue lawlessness. An apparent violation of his oath, and the almost tragic consequences of this, form the basis of the story. Vola Vale, an attractive leading woman, is seen as the Iron Rider's sweetheart. One of the strongest roles is that of the Iron Rider's father, played by George Nicholas. Russell's work needless to say, is of the same high quality that won him his immense following.

"The Iron Rider" will remain at the Alhambra theater until Wednesday night.

BIG ATTRACTION IN "LINGER LONGER LETTY"
 The only Charlotte Greenwood, she of the long and limber arms and legs, will be the attraction at the Auditorium theater on Friday evening in Oliver Morosco's latest musical comedy, "Linger Longer Letty."

The fair Charlotte, who was last seen here in the famous song and dance show, "So Long Letty," comes direct from the Fulton theater, New York where the new show was proclaimed superior to the former big success. The book, by Ann Nichols, who has written many successful comedies, has to do with the trials and tribulations of Letty, who Cinderella like has been made the drudge of her five ambitious sisters until she finally rebels, goes on a strike and starts on a special campaign of her own with side-splitting results.

The music, by a new composer, Alfred Goodman, is of the Whistley kind and includes several genuine song hits, among which may be mentioned "Linger Longer Letty," "Ladder of Love," "The Twentieth Century Lullaby," "May Lady Fair," "My Little Highland Highland" and the jazziest of all jazz songs, "Slowdown is Jazz Town Now." The cast composed of Miss Greenwood is composed of musical comedy favorites, including Robert Higgins, Little Billy Oscar Fignah, Olga Rolter, George Sweet, Curlyene Englar, Frances Bonbenton and while the chorus is of the Broadway variety who display numerous gorgeous gowns to the greatest advantage and Mr. Morosco has furnished a production of beauty. Seats on sale today.

UNUSUAL BILL SHOWN AT AUDITORIUM THEATER
 The Auditorium theater yesterday drew good crowds all day, the attraction being Douglas Fairbanks in "He Comes Up Smiling," an Artistic photoplay in which Fairbanks as Jerry Martin. The Watermelon, shows that Fairbanks can almost do everything. His support consisting of Marjorie Daw, Frank Campau, Jay Duggins, Herbert Standing and Bull Montana (known locally) and others is the best seen so far in any Fairbanks feature. The comedy "Beat It" in which Snooky. The Hummanee plays the leading role draws forth much laughter. The style show in which a number of clever children appear is well worth the price of admission alone. They will be seen nightly together with the picture until Wednesday evening.

DUSTIN FARNUM IN "BIG HAPPINESS"
 Dustin Farnum in the strongest dramatic role of his career as a screen star, will be seen for the last time today at the Grand theater in "Big Happiness," the Robertson-Cole super special which had a successful showing.

"SOCIETY SNOBS" AT GRAND STARTING THURSDAY
 "Society Snobs," the latest Selznick picture which comes to the Grand theater for a 2 days' run starting tomorrow is said to be one of the frankest exposures of society as represented by the nouveau riche, ever screened.

The Forresters have so recently risen from obscurity to riches that Mother Forrester wishes to hitch their social reins to a foreign nobleman through the marriage of her daughter Vivian, with the popular belief that a title is the solution of all smart set supremacy. Her carefully laid plans, in spite of every safeguard, come to naught and her social aspirations tumble to earth amidst the amused, unympathetic tears of the social world. Then Daughter takes the shaping of destiny into her own hands and brings the story to a satisfactory close.

Conway Tearle is the star in this picture, and the direction was under Herbert Henry. Martha Mansfield plays opposite Mr. Tearle, and the supporting cast includes such well known players as Ida Darling, Jack McLean, Huntley Gordon and others.

KINSEY PLAYS A HIT AT THE LYRIC THEATER
 The Kinsey Comedy Company is a hit in the play of "Where the River Shannon Flows." Miss Madeleine Kinsey was unveiled on Page, and several other scenes of the play were shown.

was charming at Sylvia. The specialty by Van V. Miller and Miss Kathryn was a riot. The entire cast appeared and each and every one were excellent. This company is the best seen here in years. They have a record of two years in Toledo, where they were always greeted by crowds. Don't fail to see them—they will only be here this week, changing bills every night, also specialties. Tonight the English melodrama, "Convict 316." This is thrilling and gripping and every situation leads to startling climaxes.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F.M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, hollow looking eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

 A Superior Comedy of Social Satire.
 Added Wednesday Matinee 7:30.

This is the MAN, somewhat down on his luck, a little discouraged but still full of pluck. Employed as a waiter, most thankless of jobs; just taking orders from Society Snobs.

This is the GIRL who daily he sees when she drops in the Kit for her afternoon tea. His admiration has turned into love, though she's socially as far as a star up above.

And now here we have the Man-About-Town who is angry and hurt because the GIRL "turned him down." His revengeful mind conceives of a plan which he figures to put in effect through the MAN.

This is snobbish MAMMA who thinks that her GIRL should marry at least a Duke or an Earl. She rules like a Queen in her social dominion, but is extremely worried about "public opinion."

This is the MAN and GIRL so sweet who now find their happiness almost complete. Perhaps you are wondering what it's all about, so just wait 'til tomorrow and then you'll find out.

This is the theatre where on the screen you will find, brought to life, the things above them. To keep you amused is one of our jobs, and to do this we offer "SOCIETY SNOBS."

BORROWED HUSBANDS

By MILDRED K. BARBOUR

LVII.—Woman's Memory.

Nancy stared incredulously at Gerry's familiar signature.

There was no mistaking it. It was a bold "back-hand" with a regular upward slant to the final letters of each name.

What the cheque was beyond a doubt made out to "Fleur-de-Cie."

She looked up to find Dr. Langwell regarding her with a malicious little gleam in his eyes.

"What do you make of it?" he inquired blandly.

"For once Nancy was without resource.

"I don't—quite know—what to make of it," she admitted.

He chuckled.

"Rather amusing your taking me to task for the pretty dressmaker, and then finding your own incomparable husband's cheque in her handbag."

"Of course Gerry bought something at Fleur-de-Cie's shop," said Nancy thoughtfully.

"And equally of course it was something designed for a fair woman," he replied dryly. "One doesn't drop in at Fleur-de-Cie for collars or socks."

Nancy bit her lip in vexation. How stupid of her!

She could easily have said that Gerry had bought her a farewell gift on the eve of his departure for Paris.

Of all people in the world to discover the mystery of Gerry and the cheque, the doctor was the last whom she would have chosen. Not only did it give him a weapon he would use on her mercilessly, but it robbed her of her own sharpest weapon in Edith's defense.

Of all people in the world to cross swords with Langwell over a point d'honneur when her own husband was silently convicted of a similar breach?

She stuffed the little bundle of cheques back into the handbag and closed it with a snap.

"I feel like a thief rummaging in another woman's purse. I had no right to see that cheque, and I'm sure there's some perfectly reasonable explanation—possibly so simple that it is ridiculous. Let's forget it—what do you say?"

She smiled up at him gayly.

A little gleam of admiration crept unwillingly into his eyes, but he said dryly:

"I haven't the least intention of forgetting it, and you know quite well that you won't be able to—not if you're a true woman."

Nancy answered quietly:

"Gerry isn't here to defend himself. Until I hear his story, I reserve judgment."

The doctor laughed shortly, but made no reply. He climbed back in the car, putting the bedraggled handbag carefully into one of his pockets.

If I were you, Nancy thought maliciously, I'd run through the rest of those cheques just to assure myself that I weren't implicated also."

The smile he gave was expansive and complacent.

"My dear girl, I am a doctor. I never fail to cover my tracks."

Nancy shrugged and lapsed into silence.

The car sped along through the darkness. The mist rising from the lake lent a ghostly radiance to the car lamps; it clung to Nancy's cheeks and hair like the caress of soft cool fingers.

She drew her furs closer about her and unconsciously moved nearer the doctor for the warmth of a bodily presence.

"Cold?" he reached out a gloved hand and laid it over hers, though the car continued forward at unabated speed.

For some reason Nancy did not draw away her hand as she had done the night before.

But she did not turn her head either. She continued to stare across the lake, where a large round moon was thrusting a fragment of its silvery surface above the gentle undulating water.

That same moon would rise from the Pacific, she thought. It would shine on Gerry as it was now shining upon her. "Two souls—the whole wide world apart."

The tightening pressure of the doctor's hand on hers brought her back to Lake Michigan with a start. If Gerry at that moment were given the gift of vision—

She started to draw her hand away, then, with a little grimace of defiance, left it where it was.

That cheque—

The doctor had said: "You won't be able to forget it—not if you're a true woman."

She knew suddenly that the doctor was right.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

The Edged Girl is having a hard tussle with her conscience. At least she calls it her conscience. She doesn't dream it may be merely her conventions. Here's the trouble—a long time ago she did something considerably indiscreet. It merged into history. She built her character over and up from that incident. But now that she's going to marry her man she's wondering—shall she tell? (Well—shall she?)

Of course if it remains understood with the soothing impersonality of God, there'd be no argument. But they don't. They remember and rebash. So why waste words about that phase of it. And at any rate, has she any right to force bitter memories, bitter reproaches upon him? He didn't do the sin. SHE did it. Isn't it up to her to bear the burden?

We've thrown the robes of Sanctity about this business of confessing, but sins to those who love us, just as we've thrown the robes of Sanctity about a lot of things that would look mighty unpleasant if they didn't have any robes on. But underneath the robes, isn't such "telling" a mixture of spiritual laziness, cowardice and selfishness? That other soul isn't responsible for our salvation. That other soul must stand its own punishments, not ours. Then why complicate its problems by showing over a lot of our own trouble?

What if she does murmur "under a false impression?" We all marry, and live and work—under false impressions. We all pretend to be something better than we are. That's the only way we grow to be something better. Then isn't it up to her to love and serve him with her PRESENT strength—and consume her own PAST SMOKE?

Year and our whole day was made brighter by reading that the heroine "wore a little three-cornered straw which, for all its simplicity, was adorable."

Oh, Joy!

We have no baby grand to play. No phonograph to whoop. But we have music once a day. When Father eats his soup.

—Luke McLuke.

Well, daughter starts the ball to roll. Though Father she will roast; But she is just as bad, my soul. Each morn when crunching toast.

That the strength of steel and wrought iron is at its minimum at a temperature of 70 degrees Fahrenheit? Its strength increases with the rise or fall of temperature from this point. At 500 degrees above zero and at 60 degrees below zero the strength is increased about twenty per cent. The elastic limit also rises slightly with increase of cold.

DEATH HALTS GRAVE DIGGING.

Hazleton, Pa., May 16.—Death from a paralytic stroke yesterday prevented Frank Marterdill from completing the digging of his own grave. It became known today. Friends said he often expressed fear he would not live much longer and two days before he died he began digging his grave in a cemetery. He was 74 years old.

BACKACHE OF WOMEN.

The back is often called the main-spring of a woman's life. What can she do, where can she go, so long as that deadly backache saps every particle of her strength and ambition? She cannot walk, she cannot stand, her housework is a burden, or the long hours behind the counter, in the office or factory are crushing. She is miserable. The cause is many times some derangement of her system, and backache is a common symptom. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a reliable remedy for backache, as for more than forty years it has been relieving women of America from the ailments which often cause it.—Adv't.

BETTER boy's clothes is what this store emphasizes. Not clothes for better boys because the rougher he is the more noticeable will be the better wearing-service our clothes give than the clothes he has worn before.

AND still these clothes are highest in favor among the boys who feel proper pride in being dressed fashionably and have an eye for nobby style features and smart patterns.

The Lady or the Tiger?

Says Bob Fryer of the Ohio State Journal: "We often wonder what we should do if we were unmarried and there were only two marriageable women in the world and one was Mary Garden and the other was Amelia Galli-Curci. It is our deliberate judgment that if Bob Fryer could not borrow trouble he would steal it.—Houston Post."

When a man ventures within range of a woman with a woman with a fixed habit of matrimony it is not so much what he would do.

OBITUARY

Arthur W. Staugh.
Arthur W. Staugh, aged 22 years, died Tuesday night at 12 o'clock at his home, 378 West Main street. Death was due to complications with which he had been ill since the first of March 22, 1920, and was the son of Michael and Ida Staugh.

Surviving are his wife, who was formerly Miss Elsie Gard, his mother, Mrs. Ida Staugh of Penny avenue, one brother, Walter Staugh of the home, a sister, Mrs. Edith French of Key West, Florida, who will arrive Saturday, one half brother, James Kane of Zanesville, and a half sister, Mrs. Laura Gassler of the home in Penny avenue.

The body was removed to the Fitzsimmons establishment and will remain there until Thursday when it will be taken to the home of his mother, 124 Penny avenue. Funeral arrangements have not been completed but burial will probably be made on Monday.

Mrs. Ella Starnes.
Funeral services for Mrs. Ella Starnes, who died Monday, will be held Thursday morning. The funeral cortege will leave the home of her daughter in Henderson avenue at 9:30 for Frazeyburg where burial will be made.

Mrs. Milla Stevens.
Funeral services for Mrs. Milla Stevens were held this morning at 3 o'clock in St. Francis de Sales church and burial was made in Mt. Calvary cemetery.

George W. Handley.
The funeral of George W. Handley took place this afternoon in the Jackson Methodist church. Rev. Mr. Wilson officiated and burial was made in Fairmount cemetery.

Charles C. Chappellear.
Charles C. Chappellear, eldest son of Howard Chappellear and Mary Chappellear was born in the village of Gratiot, August 7, 1875, and departed this life to the brighter shores of the better world, February 7, 1921, aged 45 years and six months. He was united in marriage to Elizabeth Gard, August 29, 1898. Of this union no children were born, and while this childless home has had its time of sadness, thereby yet Charlie and his good wife have been father and mother to all little ones around them.

He united with the Gratiot M. E. church, being received into full membership June 9, 1895, and through living in the city of Newark more than 20 years he has really been active in the affairs of his own church through all those years. His contributions of money were as regular as the passage of the months. Only a few months before his death he helped with repairs on the church building and on many occasions has said to his wife that when his friends should pay their last sad respects, it should be here in the "little red church at Gratiot."

Of Charlie Chappellear's every day life it would be hard indeed to say too much in praise. Christ came from heaven to earth to show mankind the way, the burden of His life and teaching being unselfishness and indeed it is seldom we meet one who is so thoroughly imbued with good will, as he who has given up this life and now lies cold before us, while his spirit has gone to the God who gave it to be with Him forever.

He leaves to regret his absence, his widow, his aged father, his mother having preceded him three years ago; three sisters, Mrs. H. A. Martin of this village and Mrs. W. R. Everett and Mrs. Clark Rank of Gratiot; two brothers, Wm. R. of Gratiot and Jesse M. of Newark and numberless friends.

It is hard to put a good man's life into words and especially into a few words but we think we can almost do so in the case of this life for we can say of him, "He went about doing good."

Mrs. John Walsh.
Mrs. John Walsh, 283 Hedges street, Mansfield, O., departed this life March 4, 1921, after an illness of only two weeks. The deceased, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Solinger, was born in Newark, O., May 15, 1853, being aged 67 years, 9 months and 20 days. She was married to John Walsh, October 10, 1912. She leaves to mourn their loss a devoted husband, five small children, Bernard, Mary Louise, Walter, Ellen Fidelis and John Norbert. Two sisters, Mrs. Foster McFadden of Nashport, Mrs. Paul Griffith of Fredonia, and two brothers, Fred of Columbus and Elmer of Buckeye Lake survive. For the past seven years she has resided in Mansfield, O., where she has been a faithful member of St. Peter's Catholic church. She was a kind of loving wife and mother and numbered her friends by her sociability.

The child has been living with his grandmother, Mrs. Laura A. Our Boys and Girls

When a child finishes her play she should be expected to pick up and put away her toys, not leave them scattered about for other persons to put away. Sometimes, if the mother is resourceful, she will invent a game which will help the little one at first to keep her things orderly. The blocks may become, choice fruit or cookies and the child aided at first by the mother, may play picking up the cookies or taking fruit from the round. The engine and train, which lies in an untidy heap on the floor may be imagined to be a train wreck and may be picked up, set in order and rolled back to the train shed. Little by little the child may be taught to do things by herself. If she is not willing to be of help in this way it should be explained to her that the toys, unless picked up and put out of the way, must be put in the toy "pound" where they must stay some days and not be played with.

Milady's Boudoir

Dandruff Bad for Beauty.
No beauty is possible when the affliction of dandruff assails a woman. Euc acid, in its endeavor to escape from the system, is responsible for this very unpleasant and harmful condition. A careful watch has shown many sufferers from uric acid are troubled with the moist, greasy, flaked form of dandruff, which if neglected is fatal to the health and beauty of the hair.

In very many cases dandruff is yellow in hue, sticks to the hair and leaves a red, angry surface when dissolved. To reduce uric acid a diet is necessary, depending on the individual case and prescribed by a physician. For local treatment, get rid of the scales but do this in a gentle way so as not to injure the delicate hair roots.

Commence by rubbing the entire scalp gently with sweet oil or vaseline, leaving a little bit if it on the entire scalp or over the patches of dandruff. Leave the oil on overnight and in the morning give the head a vigorous shampoo with a pure soap. Rinse very carefully, using a bath spray with a first warm and then hot water. This will invigorate the scalp and bring a new supply of blood to the surface. After the hair is dry you will find a considerable portion, if not all, of the dandruff to have disappeared.

Now give the scalp a vigorous daily massage, using the tips of the fingers and taking care not to scratch the scalp with the nails. For the massage keep the fingers well lubricated with sweet oil or vaseline and, if the hands feel hot, wet the fingers in cold water. As soon as the dandruff gathers repeat the treatment by a shampoo.

Everyday Etiquette

What is the proper time for a bride to give her gifts to her bridesmaid? asked Mrs. Albert White.

"When the bride is to be given a luncheon for her bridesmaids is the time for the presentation of gifts. If there is no luncheon the gifts may be sent the day before the wedding, a card being sent with each gift," said her mother.

Be strong and well, breathe clearly and easily again by using this simple and recent known as Oxidaze, the prescription of a Worcester, Mass., physician.

For any form of Asthma where the bronchial tubes are irritated, the breathing short and difficult, its healing, relieving action is really wonderful. Sufferers who can't breathe at night and who gasp for a good, clear breath will appreciate the relief and comfort Oxidaze gives.

Oxidaze is a tablet made from essential oils which, when the patient dissolves in the mouth, almost immediately soothes the irritation, clears out the choked up air passages and enables the sufferer to breathe easily and get a real comfortable night's sleep.

It is sold by W. A. Erman, Evans' Drug Store and leading druggists who agree to refund the full purchase price of the first package to any sufferer who does not obtain satisfactory relief.
Asthmatic sufferers should give Oxidaze a trial. It is harmless and inexpensive.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, March 16.—Fresh strength developed in the wheat market today, chiefly as a result of buying on the part of a house with seaboard connections. Scantiness of the visible supply together with gossip that Greece and France were asking for offers tended further to give the bulls an advantage.

Trade, however, lacked volume. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 1c higher, with arch $1.56 to $1.56 1/2 and May $1.49 to $1.51 1/2, were followed by moderate upturns all around.

Corn hardened with wheat. After opening unchanged to 3-4c higher, including May at 69 1/8 to 69 3/8c, the market scored something of a general upturn.

Oats were firmer owing to the action of other cereals starting 1-4 to 5-8c higher, May 43 to 53 1/4c and later holding about initial range.

Setbacks in the value of hogs weakened provisions.

More Poultry Pin Money

You can get more eggs and make more money by feeding hens more material for making whites of eggs. No grain feed contains anything like enough white-making material (protein). As a result, many yolks are formed in the hen's body that are never laid.

Purina Poultry Chows
fed together, make more eggs because they supply the scientific balance of all the elements a hen requires to produce the highest number of whites and yolks of which she is capable. Purina Poultry Chows are sold under an iron-bound guarantee of More Eggs or Money Back.

Your Next Replacement Spring should be a TEMME QUALITY SPRING

Because

1. This time tested TEMME SPRING is hand-built thruout by master workmen.
2. Built from only the finest grade of selected steel, a bonus or premium paid by the manufacturer to the mill for the privilege of choosing first quality material.

Then

3. This selected steel is scientifically heat treated and tempered in oils.
4. Each leaf is fashioned by hand to the accurate dimensions as specified in the automobile factory's specifications.
5. And finally these plates or leaves are painstakingly hand-fitted by long experienced fitters and liberally graphited before being assembled.

It is a sense of justifiable pride that we now announce ourselves as distributors for this popular dependable replacement spring and to announce to the passenger and truck operators of this vicinity that for every car and truck we are prepared to furnish a TEMME QUALITY SPRING—QUICKLY.
